Kids' Corps, Inc. Annual Report

“We provide a head start for families with children who need it most.”

Kids' Corps, Inc.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

May, 2017

Starting in 1965 as an 8 week summer enrichment program for economically at-risk children who would be entering kindergarten that fall, Head Start and Early Head Start today serve one million children annually in thousands of communities across the country. At Kids' Corps, we are proud to provide Head Start and Early Head Start programs for the children and families of Anchorage. Much has changed over the decades, but our commitment to provide all children, regardless of the circumstances of their birth, with the opportunity to realize his or her unique potential remains the foundation of everything we do.

The information that follows provides a summary of the comprehensive services we provided and the results we achieved in 2016. The positive outcomes reviewed here represent the impact of parents, staff and our friends and partners working together to support the healthy growth and development of our children and to strengthen family well-being. We are honored to share our work with you, and look forward to continuing to provide a head start to families with children who need it most in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

Dirk Shumaker
Executive Director

ABOUT KIDS' CORPS, INC.

WHO WE ARE

Kids' Corps, Inc. is a Head Start and Early Head Start grantee operating centers in eight Anchorage locations. Head Start is a comprehensive child development program that serves children 3 to 5 years old and their families. Kids' Corps, Inc. also provides Early Head Start services for children birth-3 years old. Our goal is to prepare children for success in school and life by supporting their social, emotional, cognitive, and physical development and promoting family well-being.

Kids' Corps, Inc. (KCI) is governed by both a Board of Directors and a Policy Council. The executive director and four managers oversee the daily operations and administration of KCI.

HISTORY

Kids' Corps, Inc. has been in existence for 26 years. Originally formed as a delegate agency providing Head Start services under the administration of RurAL CAP, Kids' Corps became an independent Head Start grantee in 1990. The following timeline provides a brief overview of KCI's history.

- 2012 Parents as Teachers home visiting program begins its first year with an enrollment of 40 families.
- 2013 Federal sequestration budget cuts result in the closure of South Center and the loss of 20 enrollment slots in August.

RESULTS

BENEFITS OF KIDS' CORPS, INC.

EARLY INTERVENTION

Kids' Corps, Inc. has effective systems for identifying children with disabilities and connecting them with special education services.

As the chart at right illustrates, it is likely that many of these children would have entered kindergarten with undiagnosed disabilities if they had not attended Head Start. In 2016, 66 children received special education services.

FEDERAL REVIEW RESULTS

From 4/21/2014 to 4/25/2014 the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) conducted an on-site monitoring review of the Kids' Corps, Inc. Early Head Start and Head Start programs. Based on the information gathered, the review team determined that the Early Head Start program is in compliance with all applicable Head Start Standards, laws, regulations and policy requirements.

The Head Start program was found to be out of compliance with CFR 1304.20 (c)(3)(ii) that states "Dental follow up and treatment must include other necessary preventive measures and further dental treatment as recommended by the dental professional." The review report declares that "a review of 21 files of children requiring additional dental services found the grantee did not arrange treatment for 1 child....The grantee did not ensure each child with a known dental problem received further treatment as recommended by the dental professional; therefore it was not in compliance with the regulation."

After KCI submitted a corrective action plan, ACF conducted a follow up monitoring review on 11-21-2014 to determine whether KCI had corrected this finding. Based on the review, ACF stated: "The grantee ensured each child with a known dental problem received further treatment as recommended by the dental professional. The area of noncompliance is corrected."

SCHOOL READINESS EFFORTS

One of the primary purposes of Head Start is to prepare children for future educational success. KCI's school readiness goals and accomplishments are summarized below.

KCI has joined with the Alaska Head Start Association (AHSA) and Department of Education and Early Development (DEED) to develop an outcomes report that assesses school readiness for children leaving Head Start for kindergarten. DEED completes a state-wide school readiness report annually.

DEED has established state identifier numbers for Head Start children. For the first time, Head Start children have an identifying number that will allow Head Start programs, school districts and parents to learn how children are progressing over time as they leave Head Start for further education. The information will be available in compiled form only and will not identify individual children.

KCI has recognized that educational success is linked to quality teaching. Therefore, KCI has implemented a mentor-coach process to assure that each staff member who has direct contact with children and families receives individualized assistance that will strengthen their instructional support skills.

Classroom staff uses Coaching to Fidelity results, CLASS (Classroom Assessment Scoring System) assessments, and Teaching Strategies Gold individual child assessment data to improve classroom management and assure developmental appropriateness of activities and schedules. The overall goal is to assure that every child demonstrates appropriate growth throughout their enrollment and that each child’s unique learning needs are taken into consideration.

KCI’s transition advisory committee has expanded its collaboration with the Anchorage School District to ensure that families are prepared to make the transition from Head Start to kindergarten. This collaboration includes hosting kindergarten transition information fair to be staffed jointly by KCI and ASD staff to provide relevant information about the transition process and to link families with resources available within in the Anchorage School District. Through the information fair, families will be provided with information on topics such as home schools, the registration process, documentation needed to enroll a child, summer transition activities families can do at home to prepare their child, and much more.

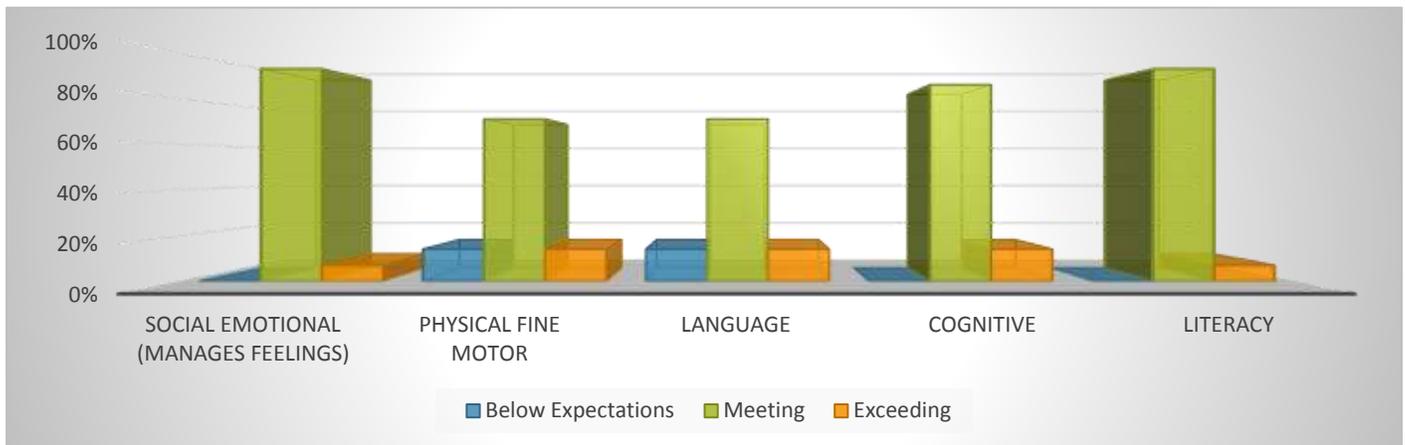

CHILD ASSESSMENT OUTCOMES

Only KCI children eligible for kindergarten in August 2016 are included in the following table. QUALITY EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION SERVICES

Research shows that well-trained preschool teachers are a key component of high quality child development programs. Teacher qualifications have significantly increased over the past ten years at KCI.

KCI Early Head Start care teachers are highly qualified. 1 EHS care teacher has a 2-year degree in early childhood. 1 EHS care teacher has her Infant and Toddler CDA and is actively working toward obtaining a related 4-year degree. The EHS assistant teacher also has her Infant Toddler CDA.

KCI is actively working to improve the qualifications of assistant teachers in the classrooms. In 2016, 8 of KCI's assistant teachers had CDA credentials, and 4 assistant teachers had 2-year degrees. All assistant teachers are working toward obtaining CDAs with the support of a mentor coach.

ANNUAL REPORT 2016--SUMMARY OF THE COMMUNITY ASSESSMENT (2015)

Our 2015 community assessment shows there are approximately 22,000 children under the age of 5 in Anchorage. This age group's population has not increased significantly over the last 5 years, with a population of 21,961 children 0-4 years old in 2010 rising only to 22,297 in 2015, an increase of just 1.5%. Using Census bureau data we estimate that about 20% of this number live below 100% of poverty as defined by the Office of Head Start federal income eligibility guidelines.¹ Using a 20% poverty rate, we estimate there are 1,760 three and four year olds income eligible for Head Start and 2,640 birth to three year olds eligible for EHS.

Our community assessment reveals that Anchorage is an exceptionally diverse community (ethnically and linguistically) with a relatively low family poverty rate, low (though increasing) unemployment, a high cost of living, a high rate of family homelessness, higher than average rates of domestic violence and an increasing rate of child maltreatment. The city's trend toward diversity is especially obvious when we look at its population of young children. While 67% of Anchorage residents are Caucasian, only 54% of the children aged 0-4 are.

In Anchorage and Alaska, the percent of the population living below the federal poverty level is well below the national average. This is deceiving though, because the cost of living is also significantly higher in Alaska than in other states. In Anchorage, it is estimated to be 27% higher than in other US cities.² The relative cost of housing has risen every year between 2009-2015 in Anchorage³; in fact, Anchorage has the 21st highest housing costs in the nation. The ASD Child in Transition (CIT) program identified 472 infants/toddlers and 380 preschool aged children as homeless during the 2013/14 school year.

Child abuse and neglect has been a persistent problem in Anchorage. Between 2006 and 2013, the average monthly number of children in State custody who were five or younger, went up by 15%.⁴ Exposure to domestic or intimate partner violence, which is a form of child abuse, is also an issue affecting children in Anchorage. Over 42% of Anchorage women surveyed by the UAA Justice Center reported experiencing intimate partner violence in their lifetime, compared to 33% nationally.⁵
